BUREAU OF THE CENSUS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This report was prepared in the Agriculture Division. Several other divisions contributed to this preparation: Data Preparation performed the clerical processing; Administrative and Publications Services performed planning, design, composition, editorial review, and printing planning and procurement for publications and report forms; Computer Services provided the computer processing facilities; and Economic Programming prepared the computer programs.

Members of the Census Advisory Committee on Agriculture Statistics and representatives of both public and private organizations made significant recommendations which helped establish data content.

Members of various agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture provided valuable advice in the planning, publicizing, and processing phases of the census, and in helping farmers and ranchers complete the report forms.

Special tribute is paid to the thousands of farm and ranch operators who furnished the information requested. Only through their cooperation was it possible to collect and publish the data in this report.

BACKGROUND

The 1988 Agricultural Economics and Land Ownership Survey (AELOS) is an integrated survey of farm finance and land ownership. Publication of data on land ownership characteristics began in 1880, with the classification of farm tenure. Varying elements of farm financial data have been collected since the first agriculture census was taken in the United States in 1840. The principal financial characteristics in earlier data collections were value of farm land and sales of agricultural products, but in 1890, census data were also requested on farm mortgage debt. In later censuses, farm taxes were included.

Beginning in 1960, special surveys were conducted in connection with the 1959 and 1964 Censuses of Agriculture on selected aspects of farm finance. In 1971, the 1970 Survey of Agricultural Finance was conducted as part of the 1969 Census of Agriculture. The survey collected data on land in farms, value of land and buildings, rents, capital and operating expenditures, credit used for purchasing specified items for farm use, outstanding debt by kind and source, value of agricultural products sold, construction of farm buildings and structures, as well as off-farm income.

The 1979 Farm Finance Survey was comparable to the 1970 Survey of Agricultural Finance. The 1979 survey included new sections on production contracts, income and expenses from farm-related sources, assets, acquisition and date land was purchased, off-farm work, education, and household characteristics; and repeated questions from the 1970 survey on debts, expenditures, income, and taxes. Data from all these items were collected from the operator, and most of it from the landlords. The landlord report form also included new sections on land ownership, sales of agricultural land, participation in management decisions, and type of ownership.

AELOS includes the majority of the financial measures collected in the 1979 and earlier Farm Finance Surveys and greatly expands the data on land ownership. AELOS includes estimates for every State and U.S. totals for acres of agricultural land owned, how it was purchased, type of ownership, and a measure of the number of acres acquired and sold for specified years. Land ownership data are included for landholders who operate farms as well as for landholders who are not farm operators.

SOURCE OF DATA

Except for a few text tables, all data shown in this report were from the 1988 Agricultural Economics and Land Ownership Survey, which was taken in 1989 to cover the 1988 calendar year. All data in tables referring to the 1987 Census of Agriculture were collected in 1988 for the 1987 production year.

To determine the content of the AELOS report forms, the Census Bureau consulted with the Census Advisory Committee on Agriculture Statistics. Suggestions also were received from government agencies, such as U.S. Department of Agriculture and Bureau of Economic Analysis as well as from private organizations and associations including the National Farm Bureau, National Association of State Departments of Agriculture, National Cattleman's Association, and National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. Assistance provided by the Economic Research Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Farm Credit Administration, and the Federal Reserve Board was particularly noteworthy.

The AELOS operator and landlord report forms were tested in the spring of 1988. The pretest was accomplished by meeting with Farm Bureau members and young and adult farmer groups in vocational agriculture across the country. Meetings were conducted in the States of Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Wyoming, and California. Staff members gave the farmer groups an overview of the survey. Members of the groups were then asked to complete the report form for the operator or landlord, whichever applied to their farm/ranch operation. They offered suggestions about the layout of the reports and clarity of questions asked on the report forms.

Based on evaluation of the test and additional research, final report forms for data collection were developed for operators (88-A9A) and landlords (88-A9B). Copies of these report forms are in appendix B.

The data for the survey were collected principally by mail. Form 88-A9A was sent to a sample 44,125 of farm operators for completion of applicable items for the land which they operated. Form 88-A9B was sent to landlords listed on completed operator reports. Landlords were asked to complete items relating to land rented to the specified farm operators. A combination of essential items from the operator and landlord reports made possible the determination of total estimates for items applicable to all land in farms.

PRESENTATION OF DATA

Data are published for the United States, 4 regions, 9 divisions, and each of the 50 States. Data are published in greater detail at the U.S. level than for smaller geographic areas. Tables 1 through 65 are primarily devoted to the financial characteristics of farms including assets, debt, etc., for the farm operator and for the associated landlords. Tables 66 through 113 describe land ownership and related characteristics for both landholders who operate farms as well as landholders who are not farm operators.

SPECIAL TABULATIONS

Custom designed tabulations can be developed to individual user's specifications on a programming cost reimbursement basis. Inquiries about special tabulations should be directed to the Chief, Agriculture Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233.

MAIL LIST

The mail list for the operators was a sample of farm operators from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. Data users need to be aware of the differences between the expanded results of the 1988 Agricultural Economics and Land Ownership Survey (AELOS) and published data from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. Some differences are:

1. The sample selection excluded horticultural specialty and abnormal farms. The 34,986 horticultural specialty farms excluded accounted for $6,802 million in sales and 4,195 thousand acres in the 1987 census. The 1,696 abnormal farms accounted for $315 million in sales and 54,500 thousand acres in 1987. (Abnormal farms include institutional farms, experimental and research farms, and Indian reservations. Institutional farms include those operated by hospitals, penitentiaries, churches, schools, grazing associations, and government agencies.)
2. Some respondents indicated they had quit farming, retired, gone bankrupt, etc., since 1987. There were 3,148 reports identified as no longer in operation in 1988. No attempt was made to find successors for that group. The farms no longer in operation in 1988, when expanded by their sample weights, account for an estimated $7.5 billion in sales and approximately 68 million acres.
3. New operations beginning in 1988 did not have a chance to be selected for the survey.

The mail list for landlords was comprised of the names and addresses reported as landlords by the farm operators who responded to the survey. There were 47,132 landlord names collected from the operator reports. Report forms were mailed to all landlords except public landlords. Public landlords are Federal and State Government units, railroad companies, and Indian reservations. Extensive contact by telephone was made to obtain and clarify names and addresses of landlords from incomplete and illegible reports.

COLLECTION PROCEDURES

Operator

A total of 44,125 sample cases were selected for the AELOS survey. The survey report form was mailed January 5, 1989, to each sampled operator in a package including an instruction sheet, a cover letter, and a return envelope. A thank you card was sent to each respondent on January 27, 1989. Four followups were mailed to nonrespondents. All followups contained the standard materials mentioned above and were mailed in 4-week intervals. The fourth followup utilized certified delivery, increasing the overall response rate nearly 16 percent.

The final response rate for the operator report form was 82 percent. There were 1,146 undeliverable addresses out of the 44,125 cases mailed. Of the 42,980 reports delivered by the Post Office, 35,684 were returned or enumerated by telephone. The total nonresponse was 7,296. The 35,684 response cases included 3,148 operators who were no longer farming in 1988, 239 reports with insufficient information to process, and 32,296 reports with data that were keyed and processed.

The published totals include an estimate for the nonresponse (see statistical methodology for further explanation). There were 500 cases identified from the 1987 Census of Agriculture as extremely large or "certainty" farms. Any extremely large operation that failed to respond by mail was enumerated by phone or imputed during the enumeration period. Certainty farms were defined by total value of agricultural products sold in 1987. The values were: $500,000 in Alaska; $1,000,000 in New Hampshire, Vermont, and Rhode Island; $10,000,000 in Massachusetts, Indiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Idaho, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, and Hawaii; $20,000,000 in Nebraska, Kansas, Florida, Colorado, Arizona, and California; $30,000,000 in Texas; and $5,000,000 in all other States.

Landlord

Landlord report forms were mailed out in five waves or groups beginning in March 1989. Because the landlord sample was developed from the operator reports, additional landlords were continually identified from operator reports received and processed during the enumeration period. When a sufficient number of landlords (usually 7,000 or more) were identified, another wave was mailed.

Farm operators reported 47,132 landlords. Of these, 44,038 were mailed report forms. The 3,094 landlords not mailed forms were in two groups. The first group included "public landlords"; those landlords identified as Indian reservations, BLM, State, or railroad companies. The second group included landlords without sufficient name and address information to initiate mailout.

After the initial landlord report forms and thank you cards were mailed for waves one, two, and three, there were three form followups. There were only two form followups for waves four and five due to our landlord closeout scheduled for August 31, 1989.

The actual response rate for the landlord portion of the survey was 78 percent. Nonrespondents and respondents who returned blank forms were imputed by clerical and machine processing. The basic characteristics, such as acres of land rented to the operator and type of ownership, were provided by hand processing. The computer edit program completed the remainder of the information based on characteristics of landlord reports of similar size in the same area. Approximately 590 thousand landlords, with 135 million acres rented to others, were added to the totals by this method.

The public landlords were imputed by hand. However, the only information included for public landlords was acres and value of the land rented to the operator. The acres were obtained from the operators report and the value was estimated by using reports from the 1987 Census of Agriculture for those leasing land from public landlords. Public landlords accounted for 54 million acres of land rented to farm and ranch operators concentrated in the western States. The Federal lands in this survey are primarily the 16.2 million acres used under authority of section 15 of the Taylor Grazing Act, administered by the Bureau of Land Management. The Federal lands used under a permit basis, such as section 3 lands under the Taylor Grazing Act, and lands under the control and administration of the Forest Service, are not included as land in farms for Census purposes and are not included in the estimates for this survey. See table C for the number of leases by type of public landlords.

DATA PROCESSING

All report forms were clerically reviewed prior to data keying. Those identified as "large," based on the scale of the operation and report forms with pertinent remarks that could not be readily coded, were referred to an analyst for review and resolution. Analysts reviewed notes and remarks to salvage as much respondent information as possible and scanned large cases for possible omissions or reporting problems that would have adversely affected the computer processing. Respondents were recontacted, where necessary, for clarification of data.

Additional steps were taken in review prior to data keying. Respondents who reported "no" to the debt inquiries were coded. This enabled the computer edit program to impute "no debt" or an estimated debt for those who did not respond. Respondents reporting off-farm work were identified and coded by the Current Population Survey Demographic Project Section of the Data Preparation Division. The codes were based on the Bureau of the Census 1980 Industrial and Occupational Classification System. The data from each report form were subjected to a detailed item-by-item computer edit.

The computer edit performed comprehensive checks for consistency and reasonableness, corrected erroneous or inconsistent data, and supplied missing data based on similar reports within the same geographic area. Key items were compared to the 1987 Census of Agriculture. Problem items and large entries were identified and reviewed by analysts.

A reconciliation of data for the farm operator and the associated landlords was made. The checks during the reconciliation process were limited to data common to both the landlord(s) and the operator. Data compared were acres rented, their assigned value of land and buildings, assets, and expenses.

Landlords who rented land to more than one operator or were also farm operators could have been counted more than one time in the data on land ownership. Two steps were taken to reduce this possibility. First, any landlord reporting operation of a farm or ranch in 1988 (see section 1, item 4, 88-A9B of appendix B) was verified by checking the name and address file for the 1987 Census of Agriculture. If the landlord was not found on the 1987 mail file or was found and coded as a nonfarm operator for the 1987 census, the response on the 1988 landlord report was changed. This was done under the assumption that the landlord was reporting the land rented to others or that the operation did not meet the minimum criteria to be tabulated as a census farm. The second step was to review all landlords with similar names within a Zip Code. If a landlord was found to be included more than one time in the landlord universe, the report was coded as a multiple landlord. Multiple landlords were tabulated only one time for land ownership data, tables 66 through 113.

LIMITATIONS OF THE DATA

Estimates from this survey are not absolute totals for the 1988 year. The estimates are for the 1987 Census of Agriculture universe less horticultural specialty and abnormal farms. In addition, there was no attempt to include new farm or ranch operations in the survey.

There were 3,148 operators who returned report forms but were not farming in 1988. When expanded, the 3,148 observations represented an estimated 231,734 farms with 68.1 million acres and $7.5 billion in sales based on acres and sales in the 1987 Census of Agriculture. The estimate for farms not operating in 1988 includes operators from 1987 that are no longer farming, that have sold the farm, quit farming, are deceased, or were included in the 1987 census in error. The farms included in error or overcount estimate for the 1987 census were 6 percent or 135,600 farms.

DEFINITIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

For the exact wording of the questions used in the survey forms and the information sheets which accompanied these forms, see appendix B. The definitions and explanations in this section provide more detailed descriptions for selected items and terms than are available on the report forms or in the tables.

Farm

For this survey, the definition of a farm is the same as that for the 1987 Census of Agriculture. A farm is defined as any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold or normally would have been sold during 1988. The farm or "this place" is defined as all land under the control or supervision of one person or partnership at the time of enumeration and on which agricultural operations were conducted at any time in 1988. It is made up of the sum of the land owned in 1988, plus the land rented from others, minus the land rented to others.

Operator

The term "operator" designates a person who operates a farm/ranch, either doing the work or making day-to-day decisions about such items as planting, harvesting, feeding, and marketing. The operator may be the owner, a member of the owner's household, a salaried manager, or a tenant. If he/she rents land to others or had land worked on shares by others, he/she is considered the operator only of the land which he/she retains for his/her own operation. For partnerships, only one partner is counted as an operator. If there is no clear-cut partner in charge, the senior or oldest active partner is considered to be the operator. For survey purposes, the number of operators is the same as the number of farms.

Landlord

For purposes of this publication, a landlord is an individual, partnership, or entity controlling land rented, leased, or used rent-free by a farm operating unit. The number of landlords is not a measure of landholders but a count of the number of leases or rental arrangements made by farm operating units. A landlord does not necessarily represent a "tract" of land. If a farm operator listed the same landlord multiple times for separate "tracts" of land, the acreage was combined and counted as one landlord.

Public landlords—Public landlords includes land owned or controlled by Federal or State agencies, railroad companies, and land in Indian reservations. Land owned under all other entities such as individuals, partnerships, counties, cities, or companies other than railroads are classified as nonpublic landlords.

Report forms were not mailed to public landlords; therefore, public landlord characteristics are not available. The value of land for public landlords was imputed based on values reported by farm operators for similar type land in the same area.

Landlords operating farms—All landlords who reported operating a farm or ranch in 1988 (see section 1, item 4, of landlord's report form 88-A9B in appendix B) were compared with the 1987 Census of Agriculture. The response was changed to "no - did not farm" if the landlord was not located or was located and coded as "nonfarm" on the 1987 census mail file. This was done under the assumption that the landlord either participated in agricultural production on a share basis and was not the actual producer or was not producing on a scale to qualify as a farm under the census definition.

Landlords not responding, for whom data were imputed by hand, were also compared to the 1987 census mail file. Such landlords were coded as farm operators, if matched, and coded as a farm operator in 1987.

Landlords operating a farm or ranch does not always agree with occupation reported by the landlord. This is obvious in Table 56, Age and Occupation by Landlord Characteristics. A number of the landlords who do not operate a farm or ranch in section 1, item 4, did report operating a farm or ranch as their occupation in section 10A of the report form.

Multiple landlords—Because the mail list for landlords was prepared from the names reported by operators, it was possible for the same landlord to appear on two operator reports or more in the sample. When this occurred, a landlord would submit more than one report and be a "multiple landlord." Land ownership data for tables 66 through 113 would be overestimated if the same landlord was included more than one time. Therefore, it was necessary to identify multiple landlords.

During data processing, a special effort was made to identify and code multiple landlord reports. There were only 2,320 of the 1.8 million landlords coded as "multiple landlords."

The coding of "multiple landlords" ensured that a landowner was not counted multiple times in the land ownership tables. As an example, a "multiple landlord," a landlord reported by two operators in the sample, would have two reports or observations as a landlord. If that landlord owned a total of 246 acres, each observation would be expanded by the sample weight and included in the 180 to 250 acres owned in the landlord characteristics stub for tables 1 through 65. However, the coding as a "multiple landlord" will permit only one observation to be expanded and included in the land ownership tables 66 through 113, thereby reducing the chance of overestimating acres owned.

Owners

Owners are individuals, partnerships, corporations, or other entities that own land used for agricultural purposes. Owners exclude Federal and State agencies, railroad companies, Indian reservations, and abnormal farms. Owners are classified as either owner-operators or nonoperator-owners, based on whether they operate any of the land they own.

The estimates for owner-operators were made using data from the operator reports (88-A9A). Nonoperator-owners are a subset of the landlord reports (88-A9B). Nonoperator-owners included all landlords who were not public landlords, landlords that did not report operating a farm or ranch in 1988, or multiple landlords.

Land in Farms

The acreage designated in the tables as "land in farms" consists primarily of agricultural land used for crops, pasture, or grazing. It also includes woodland and wasteland not actually under cultivation or used for pasture or grazing, provided it was part of the farm or ranch operator's total operation. Large acreages of woodland or wasteland held for nonagricultural purposes were deleted from individual reports during the processing operations. Land in farms includes acres set aside under annual commodity acreage programs, as well as acres in the Conservation Reserve Program for places meeting the farm definition.

Land in farms is an operating unit concept and included land owned and operated as well as land rented from others. Land used rent-free was to be reported as land rented from others. All grazing land, except land used under government permits on a per-head basis, was included as "land in farms" provided it was part of a farm or ranch.

Land leased from public landlords (Federal, State, railroad companies, Indian reservations, and institutions) was considered to be debt-free, and not subject to property taxes.

Land Owned

Land owned is used in tables 66 through 113. The estimate for land owned includes all land owned by farm operators (owner-operator land) plus all land owned by landlords who did not operate a farm in 1988 (nonoperator-owners, on December 31, 1988).

The acres of owner-operator land are in two classifications. The first is acres owned and operated; the second, land rented to others. The acres owned and operated by owner-operators are the same acres as owned land in farms in tables 1 through 65.

Land owned is an estimate by ownership rather than by farm unit. As in the census, it does not include land used under Government grazing permits on a per-head basis. However, it does exclude acres in abnormal farms, acres in farms classified in SIC 018 or acres with $2,000 or more in gross sales of horticultural products, or acres owned by public landlords, which are included in the land-in-farm category in census data.

Owned land for operators—Owned land for operators, in tables 1 through 65, is the acres of land owned and operated by the farm operator at any time in 1988. The acres owned and operated by owner-operators in tables 66 through 113 do not include land operated but sold prior to December 31, 1988, and therefore, is less than owned land in tables 1 through 65.

Acres owned for landlords—Acres owned for landlords in tables 1 through 65 is the sum of all land owned by landlords. This includes land owned and operated by landlords as well as some duplication brought about because the same landlord may be included in the sample by more than one operator (see definition for multiple landlords).

Ownership Characteristics

All farm operators and landlords were requested to complete a series of questions on the agricultural land they owned on December 31, 1988. These items included: from whom the land was purchased, a history of acquisition of land, number of tenants, and acres leased by type of tenant. Imputation was made for nonresponse to these items. For the farm operators, a comparison for land enrolled in the Federal Conservation Reserve Program was made to their corresponding 1987 census report.

Value of Land and Buildings

Respondents were asked to report their estimate of the current market value of land and buildings owned, rented, or leased from others, and rented or leased to others. Market value refers to the amount the land and buildings would sell for under current market conditions. If the value of land and buildings was not reported, it was imputed using the average value of land and buildings from a similar farm in the same geographic area.

Market Value of Agricultural Products Sold

This category represents the gross market value before taxes and production expenses of all agricultural products sold or removed from the place in 1988 regardless of who received the payment. It includes sales by the operator, as well as the value of any shares received by partners, landlords, contractors, or others associated with the operation. It includes receipts from placing commodities in the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loan program in 1988. It does not include payments received for participation in Federal farm programs nor income from farm-related sources, such as customwork and other agricultural services, income from the sales of forest products, or income from nonfarm sources.

Operator's share—The operator's share is the value of agricultural products sold minus:

a. The landlord's share, where the operator uses assets of the landlord under a share arrangement.

b. The contractor's share, in the case of an operator with a production contract.

Operator's share minus cash rent—This includes the operator's share of the value of agricultural products sold minus cash rent paid to the landlord.

Landlord's share—This total represents the landlord's share of the value of agricultural products sold from the land rented to operators on a share-rental basis.

Contractor's share—The contractor's share of the total is the total market value of agricultural products produced under contract minus the amount paid to the producer.

Operator's Income

Net cash income from agricultural sales—This income is the operator's share of the value of agricultural products sold minus the operator's cash operating expenses and cash rent.

Net farm-related income—This income includes Government payments to the farm operator plus all other farm-related income such as customwork, value of rent or share payments received, sales of forest products, or other income closely related to the farm minus the cash expenses for providing the service.

All large entries for farm-related income were screened and compared to the operator's market value of agricultural products sold. With the exception of Government payments and rental income of agricultural land, farm-related income entries of $50,000 or more, when greater than the operator's market value of products sold, were moved to item 1b, section 11, Off-Farm Income, "operation of self-employment business or professional practice."

Net cash farm income—This is the operator's income from the net cash income from agricultural sales plus the net farm-related income.

Off-farm income—This category is the income for the operator, senior partner, or hired manager's household and includes cash wages, salaries, tips, military pay, commissions, piece-rate payments, cash bonuses, income from nonrelated farm business or professional services, retirement and/or disability payments, public assistance, interest, dividends, income from estates or trust, net cash rent from nonfarm property, net royalties, or lease payments from mineral rights, annuities, alimony, regular contributions from persons not living in the household, and any other money income from other sources.

Net cash income—This is the operator's total income from net cash farm income plus off-farm income.

Assets

Operator assets are listed in two categories. Farm assets include the physical resources and financial assets used in the operation of the farm. Household assets include the financial resources for the operator household.

1. Farm assets include the value of land and buildings owned and operated, as well as the business assets owned by the farm business. The assets owned by the farm business include the livestock, machinery and equipment, crop inventories, stock in Federal banks and production credit associations, etc., as well as the cash, bonds, and accounts receivable held by the farm operation as of December 31, 1988.
2. Household assets are deposits, securities, cash value of life insurance, off-farm operator dwellings, accounts receivable, and cash on hand held by the operator and members of his/her household on December 31, 1988.

For a family or individual operation—All farm assets owned by the operator and related members of the household engaged in the farm business were to be reported.

For a partnership or family corporation operation—All business assets owned by the partnership or family corporation were to be reported, but the household assets were to be reported only by the senior partner (or person in charge of the partnership) or by the person in charge of the family corporation.

For large corporations—Including managed operations, all business assets managed for the farm owner were to be reported. However, only the household assets owned by the hired manager and related members of the household engaged in the farm business were to be reported.

The type of assets excluded from the operator's report were land and buildings rented to others; the landlord's share of any assets; poultry, livestock, and other assets owned by contractors, investors, etc.; and machinery, equipment, and other assets rented from others. Landlord assets are limited to the physical farm assets associated with the acres of land rented to the specified farm operator.

Capital Purchases and Operating Expenses

These are the total expenditures for all capital items and all cash operating expenses.

Debt

Farm operators "with debt" are those reporting debt for the farm or ranch operation, not debt on other household assets reported in section 7 of the operator report form. Farm operators were instructed to report as debt the unpaid principal of the loans, sales contracts, and other bills owed by the operator or spouse on December 31, 1988. In case an indebted operator (or spouse) owned farmland that was rented or leased to others, or owned a nonfarm business, the operator was asked to prorate debt so the amount reported would relate only to the farmland operated. Debts owed for less than 30 days, such as charge accounts, were not to be reported.

The instructions and procedures for reporting landlord debt were the same as those for reporting farm operator debt. Each landlord listed by a farm operator was asked to report debt relating to the acreage rented to the farm operator in the sample.

Operator's Cash Operating Expenses

This represents the total operating expenditures, excluding depreciation and change in inventory values, made by the farm operator for farming operations in 1988. Cash expenditures paid by landlords were not included by the operator, but were reported by the landlords. The cost of items and services supplied by contractors is not included, but is shown separately.

Capital Purchases

This refers to expenditures used for purchasing long-lasting items required for the production of agricultural income, such as land, buildings, land improvement, equipment and machinery, breeding livestock, etc.

Cash Rent

Each farm operator renting from others was asked "If you rented land from others, how much cash rent did you pay for acres leased during 1988?" The cash rent reported includes, in addition to the amount paid for land rented and operated, any cash rent paid for rented lands the operator may have subrented to others.

Production Contract

Many farm products are produced under contract or binding agreement between the farm operator (producer) and the person who buys or uses the farm product. A production contract usually specifies the kind and/or amount of farm products to be produced and may specify the variety, or breed, the operations to be performed during processing, the price to be paid to the producer, and the inputs and technical assistance to be supplied by the contractor. If the contract did not specify inputs provided by the contractor, it was not included in the tabulations.

Estimated Real Estate Taxes

Real estate taxes are estimated based on response to the number of acres and dollars of real estate taxes paid, as reported on the real estate tax bill(s) for 1988. The acres reported, as shown on the tax bill(s), did not always agree with total acres owned. Therefore, the dollar-per-acre ratio reported was used for estimating purposes.

The dollar-per-acre ratio multiplied by total acres owned provided an estimate for total real estate taxes paid. For landlord reports, the same ratio was used to estimate the real estate taxes paid by the landlord for the acres rented to the specified farm operation. For operator reports, the ratio was used to estimate real estate taxes paid on owned land operated, which would be less than all acres owned for those operators who rented owned land to others. This method may introduce some bias on those cases where the dollar-per-acre ratio reported was significantly different from the true ratio on all land owned, operated, or rented to the specified farm operator. Reports which the respondent did not report taxes were imputed using data from reports of a similar size and type for the geographic area.

The range of data for assessed value of farm or ranch land was not verifiable and, therefore, data were not tabulated for this survey.

Hired Farm Manager

A hired farm manager is a person who is paid a salary or wage (and sometimes a commission) to operate a farm or ranch for an individual or family, a partnership, a corporation, an institution, or other organizations. The hired farm manager is in charge of all day-to-day decisions relating to the operation. Instructions accompanying the report pointed out that a hired farm manager should not be confused with a working supervisor, caretaker, share operator, or hired person who merely carries out the employer's instructions.

On the operator report form, the respondent was asked:

> Was "THIS PLACE" a managed operation where the operator was employed as a hired farm manager? . . . . . Yes [ ] No [ ]

The salary for hired farm managers was to be included as income from farm work (section 3B, item 5 of the report form). The data for household assets (section 10B, items 1 to 4; section 11, Off-Farm Income and Household Size; and section 12, Off-Farm Work and Education, of the report form) were to be reported for the hired farm manager and his/her family.

CLASSIFICATIONS

Classifications used throughout this publication are derived from data reported on the operator and landlord report forms as well as data brought forward from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. In all cases, classifications used in this publication are comparable to classifications used in the 1987 census.

Classifications From 1987

The following classifications were brought forward from the 1987 census and are used in classifying farms, farm operators, and owner-operators.

Type of Organization— The type of organization classifications used for farm operators and owner-operators are:

Individual or family (sole proprietorship), excluding partnership and corporation.
Partnership, including family partnership.
Corporation, including family corporation.
Other, such as cooperative, estate or trust, etc.

Corporations were separated into two subclassifications:

1. Family held
2. Other than family held

Type of organization for owned land in farms, tables 66 through 113, utilized the 1987 census coding for the type of organization in the owner-operator group. Nonoperator-owner classification for "major type of organization," as a landlord, was used as the equivalent for type of organization.

Age—The age classification was based on the matching report in the 1987 Census of Agriculture.

Race—The race classification was obtained from matching reports in the 1987 Census of Agriculture. Data for the following racial classifications are presented in the tables:

White
Black and other races

The classification Black and other races includes Blacks, American Indians, Asian or Pacific Islanders, and any other separate racial group, except White.

Spanish origin—This characteristic is brought forward from 1987 Census of Agriculture records. In 1987, no imputation was made for those not responding to the question on Spanish origin.

Sex—Coding for sex of the farm operator was brought forward from the 1987 Census of Agriculture.

Residence—Coding for residence of the farm operator was brought forward from the 1987 Census of Agriculture.

Days worked off farm—The classification for operators by days worked off farm is brought forward from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. Therefore, there will be conflicting results when the user compares the number of operators by days worked off farm (1987 data) with the response to operator off-farm work in the 1988 survey.

Principal occupation—Farms were classified by the principal occupation of the operator as:

Farming—The operator spent 50 percent or more of his/her worktime in farming or ranching.

Other—The operator spent 50 percent or more of his/her worktime in occupations other than farming.

Standard industrial classification—These classifications, found in the 1987 SIC Manual, are used to promote uniformity and comparability in the presentation of statistical data collected by various agencies.

An establishment primarily engaged in crop production (Major Group 01) or production of livestock and animal specialties (Major Group 02) is classified in the four-digit industry and three-digit industry group which accounts for 50 percent or more of the total value of sales of its agricultural products. If the total value of sales of agricultural products of an establishment is less than 50 percent from a single four-digit industry, but 50 percent or more from the products of two or more four-digit industries within the same three-digit industry group, the establishment is classified in the miscellaneous industry of that industry group. Otherwise, it is classified as a general crop farm in industry 0191 or a general livestock farm in industry 0291. The classifications are as follows:

Cash grains (011)—Wheat, rice, corn, soybeans, barley, buckwheat, cowpeas, dry field and seed beans and peas, flaxseed, lentils, milo, mustard seed, oats, popcorn, rye, safflower, sorghum, sunflowers, and other small grains.

Cotton (0131)—Cotton and cottonseed.

Tobacco (0132)—Tobacco.

Sugarcane, sugar beets, Irish potatoes, hay, peanuts, and other field crops (0133, 0134, 0139)—Sugarcane, sugar beets, Irish potatoes, alfalfa, broomcorn, clover, grass seed, hay, hops, mint, peanuts, sweetpotatoes, timothy, and yams.

Vegetables and melons (016) Vegetables and melons grown in the open.

Fruits and nuts (017)—Berries, grapes, tree nuts, citrus fruits, deciduous tree fruits, avocados, bananas, coffee, dates, figs, olives, pineapples, and tropical fruit.

General farms, primarily crops (019)—Crops with less than 50 percent of sales from any single three-digit industry group.

Livestock, except dairy, poultry, and animal specialties (021)—Cattle, calves, hogs, sheep, goats, goats' milk, mohair, and wool.

Beef cattle, except feedlots (0212)—Production or feeding of beef cattle, except feedlots.

Dairy farms (024)—Production of cows' milk and other dairy products and raising of dairy heifer replacements.

Poultry and eggs (025) Chickens, chicken eggs, turkeys, ducks, geese, pheasants, pigeons, quail, and squab.

Animal specialties (027) Fur-bearing animals, rabbits, horses, bees, ponies, fish in captivity except fish hatcheries, worms, and laboratory animals.

General farms, primarily livestock and animal specialties (029)—Livestock and animal specialties and their products, but less than 50 percent of sales from any single three-digit industry group.

The SIC manual was revised for 1987. Animal aquaculture (0273) was established as a new industry.

Occupation—Off-farm work occupation of the operator and spouse coding was based on the Bureau of the Census 1980 Industrial and Occupation Classification System. Some respondents descriptions of off-farm work activity were not codeable. The cases not codeable are included with the not reported as not classified for occupation.

Value of Agricultural Products Sold

Data are shown for farms with sales ranging from less than $2,500 to farms with $1,000,000 or more. The sales values are based on 1988 sales reported in this survey. The survey sample includes farms, which in the 1987 census had sales of $1,000 or more, or had potential for such sales. Thus, the sales class less than $2,500 includes those farms in the survey reporting sales of less than $1,000, since these were classified as farms in accordance with the census farm definition.

Tenure of Operator

This classification of farms was based on land owned, land rented from others, land rented to others, or as reported in 1988.

The classifications of tenure used in this report are:

Full owners, operate only the land they own.
Part owners, operate the land they own and also land they rent from others.
Tenants, operate only the land they rent from others or work on shares for others.

The subclasses of tenants are:

a. Cash tenants pay only cash rent, either on a per-acre basis or for the farm as a whole. Cash payments representing a share of the crops or livestock are not considered as cash rent.

b. Share tenants pay a share of the crop and/or a share of the livestock or livestock products.

c. Share cash tenants pay part of the rent in cash and part in share of the crops and/or of the livestock and livestock products.

d. Other tenants are those who do not qualify for inclusion in any of the foregoing subclassifications. They may have had the use of the land rent-free or in return for a fixed quantity of product, payment of taxes, maintenance of buildings, etc.

Size of Farm

All farms were classified into selected size groups according to the total land area in the farm. The land area of a farm is an operating unit concept and includes land owned and operated as well as land rented from others. Land rented to or assigned to a tenant was considered the tenant's farm and not the owner's.

Farm Debt-to-Asset Ratio

The debt-to-asset ratio for the farm is an operator characteristic. It is the sum of the business assets, plus the value of land and buildings owned and operated, divided by the sum of the debt relating to the operation of the farm. This excludes assets and/or debt owned or owed by landlords and contractors.

Major Type of Organization

All landlords were classified by major type of organization based on response to type of ownership, section 9, on the landlord report form. If more than 50 percent of all land was owned under sole ownership or husband/wife, the major type of organization is individual or family. Likewise, if 50 percent or more of all land is held under family or other partnership, the major type of ownership is partnership. Other, as a type of ownership, is comprised primarily of landlords who reported type of ownership as a trust or estate. Acceptable entries for other also included: law suit judgement, divorce, title dispute, foreclosure, homestead, suit for repossession, and through marriage.

Individual or family and partnership landlords—Individual or family and partnership landlords were further classified as to residence, distance of residence from land rented, two racial groups (White or Black and other races), Spanish origin, age, sex, occupation, and percent of income from agricultural rent and sales of products. Except for Spanish origin, any missing data were imputed for this information if the report was incomplete.

Corporation landlords—Corporation landlords were further classified by whether they had business other than that of a landlord, and whether the business was related to agricultural or nonagricultural activities. All of these data were tabulated only for the landlords reporting the items.

Landlords by ratio of rent received—The ratio of rent received to value of land and buildings rented out is calculated by using rent received and acres rented to all tenants. For landlords with more than one tenant, it was not possible to calculate the rent received from a specific tenant.

Landlords by debt-to-asset ratio—The debt-to-asset ratio for the landlord is the sum of the assets owned by the landlord, including the value of land and buildings involved with the specified farm or ranch operator, divided by the debt associated with those assets.

Landlord Characteristics

Individual and partnership landlords—The characteristics for residence, race, age, occupation, and proportion of total business income received from agricultural rent were imputed if left blank. The imputation was based on similar type landlord reports. Data were not imputed for Spanish origin.

Only one response was permitted to the occupation of landlord inquiry. There were a number of multiple responses indicating the landlord may now be farming after retiring from a nonfarm occupation or vise versa. The procedure followed was to accept the first item checked in the sequence and ignore all others. There was no measure of the occurrence of multiple entries. "Other" type of occupation responses include: homemaker, student, prisoner, and widow among others.

Corporation landlords—The characteristics for corporate landlords were tabulated as reported. No attempt to impute for nonresponse was made.

Participation in Management Decisions

Entries for participation in management decisions were accepted as reported. The only change involved deleting multiple entries; no adjustment was attempted for nonresponse.

STATISTICAL METHODOLOGY

Universe

The target population for the survey is the universe of agricultural land owners and farm operators. This includes the farm operators and landlords who rent land to farm operators. A complete list of landlords is not available for sampling purposes. To address this problem in the sample design, a two-stage probability sampling procedure was used to select farm operators and agriculture landlords. In the first stage, farm operators were selected from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. In the second stage, all landlords reported by the farm operators in the first stage were included.

The universe for the first stage was all farm operators identified in the 1987 Census of Agriculture except, horticultural specialty and abnormal farm operators. The exclusion of these farm operators represented 1.8 percent of the total number of farm operators reported in the 1987 census. (See section on mail list.) The universe also did not include farm operators that began operation in 1988 or did not report any agricultural activities in 1987, and operators who took over an operation during 1988. Table A provides the original sample survey counts, 1987 census counts, and final processed counts for both operators and landlords.

Sample Design

The 1988 survey sample was designed to provide estimates with an average relative error of 15 percent or less for State estimates. The total sample of 44,125 operators represented approximately 2.1 percent of the 2,087,759 farms reported in the 1987 Census of Agriculture and accounted for 19 percent of the 136,049 million total agricultural sales. The total sample of landlords was 47,132.

A total of 500 farm operators were included in the sample with certainty. The sample included all farms with sales larger than $500,000 for Alaska; $1,000,000 for New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont; $10,000,000 for Hawaii, Idaho, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, and Washington; $20,000,000 for Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Kansas, and Nebraska; $30,000,000 for Texas; and $5,000,000 for all other States. All other farm operations in the universe were stratified on the basis of State, tenure, and the values of total agricultural sales. The strata assignment, based on the values of agricultural sales, differed from State to State. Within each stratum, an independent systematic sample of farms was selected. A higher probability of selection was assigned to both farms with part owner and tenant operators, and farms with larger values of agricultural sales. From the noncertainty strata, a total of 43,625 farm operators were included in the sample.

Survey Estimation

The survey used two statistical estimation procedures to account for selection of the survey sample and for the nonresponse to the questionnaire. These procedures were used because not all census farm operators were requested to provide the survey data items, and not all farm operators responded to the survey despite numerous contact attempts. The survey estimates were computed by weighting the data for each respondent operator by an expansion factor that was the product of the sample weight and the whole farm operator nonresponse weight.

The whole farm nonresponse weight for the nonrespondent operator was used to expand the survey data to account for the operators who did not respond to the survey for whatever reason and for the survey questionnaires that were undeliverable (postmaster returns). For each stratum, a noninteger nonresponse weight was calculated and assigned to each respondent record. The noninteger nonresponse weight was the ratio of the total number of operator-sample cases to the total number of operator-responding cases within a stratum. The procedure used for calculating the nonresponse weight assumed that the survey respondent and the nonrespondent operators within a stratum had similar characteristics.

The sample weight expanded the survey data to estimate universe totals as if a complete census of operators and landlords had been conducted. All operator respondent survey records received a sample weight based on census control totals for total agricultural sales. Landlords of an operator received their operator's sample weight. The sample weight was calculated based on a ratio estimation procedure, using two variables in two steps. The ratio estimation procedure was used to obtain agreement between survey estimates and census values. The first variable was the number of farms enumerated in the 1987 Census of Agriculture. The second variable was the value of total agricultural sales based on the 1987 Census of Agriculture. First, the ratio of census farm counts to survey farm counts was calculated. The inverse of this value was approximately equal to the probability of selecting a farm for a given stratum. Next, the ratio of the census total value of agricultural sales to survey total agricultural sales was calculated. The sample weight was the product of these two ratios. Since total value of agricultural sales for each State was the final control total used in the estimation, the survey-based total farm counts will differ slightly from 1987 census farm counts for each State.

The final weight, the product of the sample weight and the whole farm nonresponse weight, was randomly rounded to an integer weight for tabulations. If, for example, the final weight for the number of operators in a particular stratum was 7.2, then one-fifth of the respondent operators in this group was randomly assigned a weight of 8 and the remaining four-fifths received a weight of 7. The survey total for a given character was estimated by multiplying the data value by the corresponding final weight and summing over all operator and/or landlord records for the respective geographic area.

Survey Error

The statistics in this report are estimates derived from a sample survey. There are two types of errors possible in an estimate based on a sample survey: sampling and nonsampling. Sampling errors occur because observations are made only on a sample, not on the entire population. The sample selection, estimation, and nonresponse estimation procedures contribute to the sampling errors. Nonsampling errors exist even in a complete census and can be attributed to such sources as questionnaire design, data processing, survey coverage, and imputation for missing data. Sampling and nonsampling errors were kept to a minimum for the certainty operators and landlords, as their data values were obtained directly from questionnaires and telephone followup. The "accuracy" of a survey result is determined by the joint effects of sampling and nonsampling errors.

The procedures used to account for survey nonresponse in the estimation procedures contribute to both sampling and nonsampling errors. Responding operators were assigned a nonresponse weight to account for nonresponding operators as described above. This contributed to sampling errors. Responding landlords were used as donors for imputing data values for the nonresponding landlords. This contributes to nonsampling errors.

Sampling errors—Variability in the sample estimates of the survey items was due to the operator and landlord sample selection procedures, the sample estimation procedure, and the operator nonresponse estimation procedure. Sampling errors were estimated by using the random group method of variance estimation. Each responding operator in a State was randomly assigned to 1 of 24 random groups based on its order of selection. The landlords received the same random group assignment as their associated operators. This treated the operation and its respective landlords as a farm unit and allowed for measurement of the variability among the farm units for a given item of interest. Each random group contained the same sample strata as the original sample with the eligible cases allocated to the stratum similar to that of the original sample. An estimate of the total was computed for each random group and the variation among these random group estimates was used to estimate the overall sampling errors. Estimates of sampling variability, expressed as relative standard errors (percent), are presented in table D.

The survey sample was one of a large number of possible samples of the same size that could have been selected using the same sample design. Estimates derived from different samples would differ from each other. The difference between a sample estimate and the average of all possible sample estimates is called the sampling deviation. The standard error or sampling error of a survey estimate is a measure of the variation among the estimates from all possible samples and thus is a measure of the precision with which an estimate from a particular sample approximates the average result of all possible samples. The percent relative standard error of an estimate is defined as the standard error of the estimate divided by the value being estimated, multiplied by 100. If all possible samples were selected, surveyed, and processed under essentially the same conditions, and an estimate and its standard error calculated from each sample, then:

1. Approximately 67 percent of the intervals from one standard error below the estimate to one standard error above the estimate would include the unknown population value, which is the average value of all possible samples.

2. Approximately 90 percent of the intervals from 1.65 standard errors below the estimate to 1.65 standard errors above the estimate would include the unknown population value which is the average value of all possible samples.

The computations necessary to construct the above confidence statements are illustrated in the following example. Assume that the estimated number of farms for a State is 68,698 and the relative standard error of the estimate is 1.7 percent (.017). Multiplying 68,698 by .017 yields 1,168, the standard error. Therefore, a 67 percent confidence interval is 67,530 to 69,866 (68,698 plus or minus 1,168). If corresponding confidence intervals were constructed for all possible samples of the same size and design, approximately two out of three (67 percent) of these intervals would contain the figure obtained from a complete enumeration. Similarly, a 90 percent confidence interval is 66,771 to 70,625 (68,698 plus or minus 1.65 x 1,168).

Nonsampling errors—Nonsampling errors arise from incorrect or incomplete data reporting, misinterpretation of questions, imputation of missing data, and inaccurate processing of data. Careful efforts were made to keep errors introduced during clerical and electronic processing to a minimum through the use of quality control, verification, and check measures on specific operations. All such errors are in addition to sampling errors and are independent of the sample design.

Some data reported may be incorrect as a result of the misinterpretation of a question or the use of estimates in reporting. Respondents may have failed to provide all the information requested. In some cases, the respondent may have indicated the presence of an item but not the amount. Data were reviewed for inconsistencies. Changes were made to data items which appeared to be inconsistent with other items.

Whole farm nonresponse or item nonresponse imputations for landlords represent potential sources of nonsampling error in the survey data. Information reported by another farm operation with similar characteristics used to edit or impute for an entire farm operation or item nonresponse may be biased because the characteristics of the nonrespondents were not observed and may differ from those of the respondent report. This bias may be reflected either randomly or systematically above or below the true population value.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Income and production contracts—Net cash income, including government payments, farm-related income, and off-farm income, was $72,253 million or an average of $38,974 per farm in 1988. When the $41,933 million of off-farm income is excluded, the average income per farm, or net cash farm income, was $16,664. Off-farm income has a significant effect on the loss or gain of cash income to farm operators. When off-farm income is excluded, the number of farm operators with negative cash income increased from 213,089 to 735,634 farms. When off-farm income is included, the number of farm operators with net cash gains of $50,000 or more increased from 175,300 to 426,976.

Government payments of $9,118 million and farm-related income of $1,101 million accounted for 33 percent of the $31,320 million net cash farm income in 1988. When government payments and farm-related income are excluded, the net cash income from agricultural sales was $11,227 per farm. There were 864,332 farms with negative net cash income from agricultural sales, while 123,320 farms reported $50,000 or more in net cash income from agricultural sales.

The farm operators' share of the market value of agricultural products sold in 1988 was $115,645 million or 86 percent of the total. Approximately 5,242 million or 4 percent of the market value of products sold went to landlords in the form of share payments. Contractors' share of the market value of products sold from farms was $14,288 million or 11 percent of the total.

There were 33,703 farm operators reporting $17,875 million of commodities produced under production contracts. The farm operators received $3,586 million from the contractors, and the contractors provided an additional $12,033 as inputs and services to farm operators to produce commodities under production contracts. The South region led in market value of production under contract with $10,616 million, followed by the Midwest region. The leading State in value of production under contract was Texas.

Assets—Of the $724 billion in farm assets, 79 percent or $570 billion was in land and buildings. Farm operators accounted for $500 billion in farm assets used in agriculture or 69 percent of the total. Landlords contributed $224 billion in farm assets of which $215 billion or 96 percent was in land and buildings. A closer look shows that of the $215 billion in land and buildings, 3 percent or $6.2 billion was under ownership or control of public landlords. Public landlords include Federal or State governmental units, Indian reservations, and railroad companies.

Capital purchases and operating expenses—Capital purchases and operating expenditures for 1988 were $115,619 million. Landlords contributed $5,694 million or 5 percent of the total. The single largest expenditure item for landlords was $2,025 million, paid in real estate taxes. Landlords contributed only $858 million of the total, $16,240 in capital purchases, and 5 percent or $4,836 million of the $99,379 million in operating expenses in 1988. However, more than 54 percent or $3,085 million of the total expenses paid by landlords went to farms grossing $100,000 or more in sales. Landlords contributed a total of 10 percent of expenses for cash grain farms compared to 4 percent for livestock farms.

Debt—Debt was reported by 53 percent of the farm operators. Farm operators with debt accounted for 78 percent of the value of products sold in 1988. While 38 percent of the debt reported by farm operators was on farms with a debt-to-asset ratio of 40 percent or less, there were 118,128 farms reporting a debt-to-asset ratio of 71 percent or more. Debt was closely associated with the size of the farm. While 82 percent of the farms with more than $100,000 in sales reported debt, only 42 percent of the farms with less than $25,000 in sales had debt.

Landlords carried 8 percent of the total debt. Debt was reported by 13 percent of all landlords. The major source of financing for landlords was Federal land banks, with $2,474 million of the total $8,424 million of debt carried by landlords in 1988. Landlords with debt accounted for 42 million acres or 11 percent of the acres rented to farm operators.

Real estate taxes—The estimated real estate taxes were $4,802 million or 5 percent of the cash operating expenses in 1988. Operators paid $2,777 million or 58 percent of the total. The value of estimated real estate taxes paid varied from a low of $.55 per acre in New Mexico to a high of $44.91 in Rhode Island.The cost of estimated real estate taxes per $100 in value of land and buildings was $.85, with a low of $.32 in Alabama and a high of $2.17 in Michigan.

Land owned used in agriculture—Excluding public landlords, there are 2,952,282 owners of land used in agriculture. About 56 percent of the owners are also owner-operators and account for 62 percent of the land owned and used in agriculture. Nonoperator-owners with 299 million acres account for 90 percent of the rented land used in agriculture.

Some comparisons of owner-operators and nonoperator-owners are:

Nonoperator-owners obtained 38 percent of the owned land through inheritance or gift compared to 16 percent for owner-operators.

The value of land and buildings per acre was $675 for nonoperator-owners compared to $754 for owner-operators.

While 57 percent of the acres owned by nonoperator-owners was cropland, 44 percent of land owned by owner-operators was cropland.

Since 1983, nonoperator-owners sold 14.5 million acres of land compared to 24.2 million acres for owner-operators.

Current land owners owned 496 million acres in 1969 or an equivalent of 60 percent of the acres they owned in 1988. Land owners purchased 15.2 million acres in 1988. Nearly 21 percent of the current land owners reported purchasing 119.4 million acres of land from 1983 to 1987, the greatest number of acres in any 4-year period beginning in 1970.

Farm operators—There were 924,679 farms reporting off-farm work, 405,979 with either the operator or a spouse working off farm, and 518,700 where both the operator and spouse worked off farm. Of the operators reporting weeks of off-farm work, 12 percent worked less than 27 weeks and 63 percent worked 50 weeks or more.The relationship was nearly the same for spouses working off the farm; 11 percent worked less than 27 weeks and 60 percent worked 50 weeks or more.

Landlords—The survey estimate is 1,774,878 landlords with 378 million acres rented to farm operators. The total includes 28,865 public landlords controlling 54 million acres rented to farm operators. Public landlords are State or Federal agencies, railroad companies, or Indian reservations.

Of the 1,746,013 nonpublic landlords, 88 percent reported only one renter. Corporation landlords controlled 45 million of the 324 million acres rented to farm operators by nonpublic landlords. The total value of land and buildings rented to farm operators by nonpublic landlords was $209,293 million, of which $15,070 million or 7 percent was in the value of dwellings or other structures.

The financial needs of the American farmers are changing. It is important to know facts such as:

The relative debt burden of farmers

The capital investment, operating expenditures, and the amount and sources of income of farmers

These and many other financial problems can be examined only by obtaining information from you and the other survey respondents. Please give the best answers you can, making estimates when you do not have exact figures. Your answers will be combined with others so that confidentiality is maintained. Please answer each question that applies to you.

INFORMATION SHEET

1988 AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS AND LAND OWNERSHIP SURVEY

General Information

Changes in the agriculture sector have created a demand for current data on farm assets and liabilities, farm debt, land ownership, etc. Your name has been selected as a sample of farm operators from the 1987 Census of Agriculture to provide additional data on land ownership, farm income, assets, debt, production costs, and nonfarm income from farm households.

To make record keeping more economical, every report form mailed in the 1988 Agricultural Economic and Land Ownership Survey has a separate Census File Number (CFN). We need a reply from everyone receiving the report form as soon as possible, whether agricultural operations were conducted in 1988 or not. Please follow the instructions given below before completing section 1. You will then be able to determine what additional information is to be provided.

1. More Than One Report Form

If you received more than one report form and you DID NOT have multiple farming operations, complete only ONE report form for your operation. Near the address label of each extra report form, write "Extra" and the 11-digit (CFN) from the label of the report form you completed. Return the extra report(s) in the same envelope with your completed report form, so that we can remove the extra addresses from our mail register.

If you had multiple farming operations, several of them might have been selected for this survey. If you get multiple report forms, you are requested to complete a report form for EACH SEPARATE and DISTINCT production unit (farm, ranch, feedlot, greenhouse, etc.) for which you receive a form if you maintained SEPARATE records of operating expenses and sales, livestock and other inventories, crop acreages, and production. If you have more operations than you received forms, please do not combine them into any of the forms received. Report only for those operations for which data are requested.

2. Partnership Operations

Complete only ONE report form for the entire partnership farm and ranch operations, including all partners' shares on the same report. If two or more report forms were received for the partnership operation, follow the instructions in item 1 above.

A partnership is an association of two or more persons who have agreed (informally or under legal contract) on the amount of their contributions or profits.

Co-ownership of land by husband and wife, or joint filing of income tax forms, does not constitute a partnership unless an agreement to share contributions, decision-making, profits, and liabilities exists. Consider the operator to be the "Senior Partner" and who functions as the person mainly in charge of the agricultural operations on this place as defined in section 1, item 4. If partners share the work equally, consider the oldest individual as the "Senior Partner" and the "Operator" for reporting purposes on this partnership.

3. Sections Which Do Not Apply

The enclosed report form may contain sections and inquiries which do not apply to you. If a section or item does not apply, you may simply mark the "None" or "No" box and go on to the next item or section as directed.

4. How To Respond

Please record your answers in the proper spaces, on the correct lines, and in the units requested, i.e., dollars, acres, etc. Write any explanation outside the answer spaces, in the remarks section, or on a separate piece of paper. Remember to write the 11-digit CFN on any correspondence.

If you do not recall exact figures, please give your best estimates. You may indicate "Est." (for estimated) beside the answers, if you like. For all dollar items, report whole dollars. The "Cents" columns have been preprinted with zeros.

Information for Specified Sections

► Section 1 — ACREAGE IN 1988 AND CURRENT MARKET VALUE OF LAND AND BUILDINGS

Section 1 determines the land for which you should report agricultural activities. It also provides space for reporting value of land and buildings, names and addresses of landlords, and other land-related items.

Changes in the Acres Operated in 1988

Report all land associated with your agricultural operation in 1988 even if some or all of it was no longer a part of your operation on December 31, 1988.

If you had agricultural operations at any time during 1988, but quit farming before December 31, 1988, report your 1988 operations and sales, for that land, during the portion of the year that you operated. If you have quit farming, you would not normally have inventory values for poultry, livestock, machinery, and equipment to report. Please explain in section 13 that you quit farming or ranching during 1988 and give the approximate date. If the land you previously operated is currently being operated as an agricultural operation by someone else, please give the name and address of the current operator.

If you acquired land for agricultural operations, but did not use it for livestock or crop production, it should still be included in section 1, item 1.

Completing Items 1, 2, 3, and 4 of Section 1 — Use items 1, 2, and 3 to determine the total acres of land you own and operate. These data will determine the sections to be completed on the survey report form. Include all land you were associated with in 1988, regardless of location or use. Do not include holdings of residential or investment property located off "this place" (the farm land you operate). Report all land in whole acres. If you operate less than one acre, report it as one acre.

Item 1 — Land Owned — Report all land owned and associated with agriculture in 1988 whether held under title, purchase contract or mortgage, homestead law, or as heir or trustee of an undivided estate, by you and/or your spouse, or by the partnership, corporation, or organization for which you are reporting. Exclude residential property not located on this operation.

Item 2 — Land Rented or Leased FROM OTHERS — Report all land rented by you from all landlords even though the landlord may have supplied equipment, fertilizer, or other materials and/or some supervision of the work.

INCLUDE in item 2:

a. Land (for agricultural uses) that you rented FROM others for cash payments

b. Land worked on a share basis

c. Land owned by someone else which you used rent-free

d. Federal, State, Indian, or railroad land rented or leased by the acre

The names of all landlords are needed. Landlords will be contacted to provide their financial information on costs and returns for land leased to each operator.

DO NOT INCLUDE in item 2:

Public land used on a per-head or animal unit license or permit basis. For example, land used under section 3 of the Taylor Grazing Act, national forest land, and certain Indian reservation permit land.

Item 3 — Land Rented TO OTHERS —

INCLUDE in item 3:

a. Owned land rented TO others for cash or a share of the crops or livestock

b. Land which you rented from others and then subleased to others in 1988

c. Land rented out for residential or other nonfarm purposes, if it was part of the land reported in items 1 or 2

d. Land worked for you by someone else on a share-of-crop or livestock basis

e. Land which you allowed others to use rent-free

Note: Do not include land enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (10 year CRP land) as rented to others.

Item 4 — Acres in This Place — This is the total acres you owned in 1988 (item 1), PLUS the land you rented FROM others (item 2), MINUS the land you rented TO others (item 3). It is very important that you report this figure correctly (even if "0" acres), since much of the form applies to the resulting net figure — the "Acres in This Place."

"Zero Acres in This Place" — Should you complete the rest of this form?

If you had crop or livestock activities on the land for any portion of 1988, you should complete the rest of the form. See "Changes in Acres Operated in 1988" above.

If all your land was operated by a cash or share tenant for all of 1988, skip to section 13 and:

a. Explain in section 13 that "All land was rented out," and give the name and address of the cash or share tenant in 1988.

b. Complete section 14 with name, date, and telephone number.

If you had no agricultural operation during 1988:

a. Explain briefly in section 13, "sold farm," "retired," etc., and give the approximate date that you quit operating. If you sold your farm, please give the name and address of the current owner(s) or operator(s), if known.

b. Complete section 14 with name, date, and telephone number.

Mail the form in the return envelope provided.

Value of Land and Buildings — Current Market Value is defined as the value at which the farm or ranch could be sold within a reasonable length of time. The full market value of land and buildings should include the influence of nonagricultural factors such as being near an urban area, market interest rates, as well as agricultural factors affecting market value. Please give your best estimate of the current market value of the land and permanent buildings, including permanently attached or built-in equipment. Include the value of the dwelling(s) on this place and of all farm buildings such as barns, poultry houses, fruit packing sheds, vegetable sheds, etc. Include the value of attached or built-in machinery and equipment which would normally be included with the sale of the farm or ranch such as:

a. Crop drying equipment (not portable)

b. Tobacco curing equipment

c. Stationary feed grinding and mixing equipment

d. Automatic feeding and watering equipment

e. Cages and pens, used for confinement of livestock and poultry

f. Cold storage facilities for fruit, vegetables, etc.

g. Stationary hatchery equipment

h. Stationary greenhouse heating and watering equipment

EXCLUDE the value of portable equipment and machinery such as portable irrigation systems and portable crop dryers.

DO NOT INCLUDE the value of major agricultural manufacturing or processing plants, such as cotton gins or sugar mills, located on this place, nor the value of other buildings used for nonagricultural purposes, such as retail stores, filling stations, factories, motels, etc.

Item 9 — Farm Manager — A hired farm manager is a person who is paid a salary or wage (and sometimes a commission) to operate a farm or ranch for an individual or family, a corporation, an institution, or other organization. The farm manager is often responsible for purchases, sales, making day-to-day operating decisions involving the crop or livestock operations for the farm or ranch, and most frequently supervises others in performing these operations. Do not confuse a farm manager with a hired person(s) who merely carries out the employer's instructions, or with a foreman or a share operator.

Item 10 — Services from a professional farm management firm might include accounting and financial planning, (once a year tax preparation does not constitute financial planning), record keeping, production and input information, crop and livestock marketing, rent collecting, tenant finding, etc. These services would be performed by a person or firm other than the farm or ranch operator, landlord, or tenant.

► Section 2 — AGRICULTURAL LAND OWNERSHIP

Section 2 refers to all of the land owned on December 31, 1988. The acres owned as reported in section 1, item 1, were all the acres owned and operated anytime during 1988. If there was no land owned on December 31, 1988, skip to section 3. If any land was acquired, sold, or disposed of during 1988, the response to land owned on December 31, 1988 may differ from land operated during 1988, by the amount of acres involved in these transactions. If no land transactions took place during 1988, the entries in (1a) land owned during 1988 and in (1b) land owned on December 31, 1988, will be the same.

The market value for land, dwellings, and other buildings is the value of these items on acres owned December 31, 1988, reported in item 1b. The value of farm and ranch land and all buildings owned on December 31, 1988, may vary from the total market value reported in section 1, item 1 by the value of land sold in 1988. The operator's dwelling and dwellings for hired labor must be located on the land owned to be reported in item 1b. Your best estimate is requested when reporting these values. The sum of land and all buildings reported in item 2 (a—d) should equal the total market value reported in item 1b.

Item 2 — All Other Buildings and Structures includes barns, cribs, silos, equipment shops, grain bins, storage sheds, etc.

Item 4 — Land Use Definitions

a. Cropland is land that is cultivatable and normally used for crops.

b. Orchard/vineyard are permanent crops such as tree crops and vineyards.

c. Cropland used for permanent pasture is cultivatable cropland that is being used for permanent pasture but could be cropped.

d. All other pasture or rangeland is all land owned where livestock are permitted to graze (exclude any non-owned public grazing land).

e. Forest/woodland not pastured is forest and woodland on which livestock is fenced out.

f. Other (farmstead, wasteland, roads, ditches, etc.) is wasteland, roads, driveways, ditches, building sites, houses, barns, wind breaks, ponds, lakes, personal gardens, etc.

Item 5 — Land Acquired, Sold, or Disposed of and Owned on Specific Years — Report acres owned as of December 31 for the specified year in column 1. Report acres acquired and/or sold for the period shown in columns 2 and 3.

Item 7a — Leases — Item 7 requests the number of leases, acres leased, market value of acres leased and value of rent received, by type of lease on the land you owned on December 31, 1988. Do not include land you rent from others, and in turn, subleased to someone else. The market value of acres leased should be your estimate of the value for all land and buildings leased, if sold on the current market. The value of rent received should be the cash value of rent paid to you, or if the rent payment was received as a share of the crop or livestock, estimate the cash value of such items if they were sold on the current market. Any combination of cash and share payment should be summed together for total value of rent received during 1988.

Item 8 — Cash Leases Adjusted — Unusual conditions could be considered drought, hail, tornado, hurricane, adverse weather damage, etc. Exceptional conditions could be growing conditions where yields are above normal.

► Section 3 — PURCHASES AND EXPENDITURES DURING 1988 FOR THE AGRICULTURAL OPERATION

DO NOT INCLUDE:

a. Expenditures on farm property rented to others

b. Expenditures on nonfarm property

c. Expenditures made by landlord(s) (such as taxes)

d. Expenditures related to nonfarm activities (trading and speculation or livestock dealer activities)

► Section 3A — Report all capital purchases or expenditures made for the agricultural operation during 1988. Include sales taxes, but exclude finance charges. Finance charges will be recorded in section 3B, item 7. Report the costs of items minus trade-in values allowed. If you had no expenditures for the items, mark (X) in the "None" box.

► Section 3B — Report all agricultural operating expenses you, the partnership, or organization incurred for the "acres in this place" as reported in section 1, item 4. Do not include estimates of expenditures for items provided or paid for by landlords. The value of items or inputs furnished by contractor on a production contract are to be reported in section 6, not as operating expense in this section.

Item 5 — Hired and Contract Labor — Include gross salaries and wages, commissions, dismissal pay, vacation pay, and paid bonuses paid to hired workers, family members, hired managers, administrative and clerical employees, and salaried corporate officers. Also, include supplemental cost for benefits such as employer's social security contributions, unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation insurance, life and medical insurance, pension plans, etc.

Include as contract labor costs of workers furnished on a contract basis by a labor contractor, crew leader, or cooperative for harvesting vegetables or fruit, shearing sheep, or similar farm activities. Do not include costs for building or repair work done by a construction contractor. Include the cost of customwork or machine hire in item 10.

Item 7 — Do not include interest on owner/operator dwelling where amount is separated from interest on other land and buildings on "this place." Include interest paid on CCC loans in item 7b. If during the year you borrowed funds for general farming or ranching operations and cannot readily state the specific purpose for which the funds were used, report the interest expense on the amount borrowed in item 7b.

► Section 4 — DEBTS AS OF DECEMBER 31, 1988

Report all debts owed as of December 31, 1988 on the assets owned by the farm operation, partnership or corporation, and associated with the agricultural operations on "this place." If you cannot allocate debt between owned land reported in section 1, item 1, and owned land rented to others in item 3, report the total debt for owned land and explain in "Remarks" in section 13.

For debts covering land in addition to acres "in this place," report your estimate for that part of the debt that applies only to "this place." The share to be reported should be estimated in proportion to the market values of the properties. Other debts should also be prorated if they relate only in part to the agricultural operations "on this place."

DO NOT INCLUDE:

a. Debts on farm property rented to others

b. Debts on nonagricultural property such as cotton gins, canning factories, sugar mills, motels, stores, etc.

c. Your landlord(s) share of any debts

d. Charge accounts that are usually paid in full each month (debts owed for less than 30 days should not be reported)

INCLUDE:

a. Debt on accounts you do not expect to pay in 30 days

For each of the specified lending sources to which no debt was owed on December 31, 1988, mark (X) in the "None" box.

► Section 5 — MARKET VALUE OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

Report the gross value of all crops, livestock, and poultry, and their products sold from "this place" in 1988. Reasonable estimates are acceptable. Use the following definitions to determine whether to include or exclude data:

Calendar Year — Report all sales in calendar year 1988 regardless of the year produced.

Shares — If you rented land on a share basis or worked on shares for others, include the value of the landlord's share of any products removed from this place in both item 1 and item 2. Estimate the equivalent market value, if necessary.

Partnership — If the farm or ranch is operated as a partnership, report the total value of all products sold from this place for all partners.

Government Loans — Consider the value of a crop placed under government loan or seal in 1988 as sold.

Co-op and Pool-Type Arrangements — If a crop was sold through an organization which makes payments in several installments over a period of time, report the total value received in 1988 regardless of the year the crop was produced.

Contract Production — For products produced under a contract or agreement, report an estimate of the market value of the product at the time it was removed from "this place," even though you may have received only a portion of the value.

Sales by Other Household Members — Include the sales of products made from this place by other household members, such as 4H projects, etc.

Nonfarm Activities — Exclude sales of nonfarm-related businesses or activities such as livestock dealer activities. For example, do not include the value of animals purchased and resold within 30 days. The income and expenses from these kinds of activities are reported in section 7.

Home Use — Do not include the value of home use.

Forest Products — Exclude the value of forest products sold. They are to be reported in section 7, item 1b.

Sales From Other Places — Exclude farm sales from land rented to others or from livestock held on or sold from someone else's farm or ranch. If livestock were placed in a feedlot for finishing, report as market value your estimated value of the livestock when they were removed from "this place."

The sum value of all sales, shares, loans, co-op, and contract arrangements make up the total market value of farm products sold. If you rented or leased land from others on a share basis, the value of the landlord's share should be included in item 1 and is also reported in item 2 as the value of the landlord's share.

► Section 6 — CONTRACTS

Many farm products are produced and marketed under a contract or binding agreement between the farm operator (producer) and the person who buys or uses the farm product. It may be a production contract, a marketing contract, or a combination of both.

Production contracts require the contractor to provide an input usually in the form of livestock, poultry, seed, feed, machine work, or labor. If the agreement establishes only a market for the product and does not provide any input from the contractor, it is considered a sales or marketing contract and does not apply to this section.

Report in item 1 your estimate of the market value of the commodity produced under a production contract. The market value will be your estimate of the value of the commodity when taken from "this place," (including the landlord's share).

In item 2 report all cash value, including management fees received for producing the commodity under contract, (also include landlord's share). Report in item 3 your estimate of the value of inputs provided to you under the production contract. This would be the value of labor provided, your estimate of any livestock or poultry provided by the contractor (your estimate of their market value when brought onto "this place"), and any service such as spraying, tilling, harvesting, etc., provided by the contractor.

Marketing contracts usually specify the kind and/or amount of farm products to be delivered, but do not furnish inputs such as feed, seed, labor, or equipment.

Do not include contracts made by you for sevices (customwork, hauling, etc.) or to produce farm items for you where you are the purchaser rather than the supplier of the products.

► Section 7 — INCOME AND EXPENSES FROM OTHER FARM-RELATED SOURCES IN 1988

Item 1a — Report payments you received in 1988 from all State or federal government farm programs. For example: conservation reserve, acreage reduction, disaster relief or wool incentive programs. (Exclude CCC loans, the value of CCC loans are reported in section 5.)

Item 1b — These data are other income from farm-related sources not reported in section 5. Report only those income producing activities for which you used part of the land, buildings, machinery, equipment, labor, or capital normally used on "this place," and which you do not consider as entirely separate from your farming activities. Report gross amount received before taxes and expenses. Do not report income or expenses for customwork or agricultural services you provided for others if operated as an entirely separate business from your agricultural operations. The net income from a separate business should be reported in section 11, item 1b.

Item 2 — Include any expenses incurred from producing income from farm-related sources that have not been reported in sections 3a and 3b. (For example, if you leased a lot to sell Christmas trees produced on your farm and the cost was not reported in section 3, it should be reported here.)

► Section 8 — NET CASH FARM INCOME OF PARTNERSHIPS

Report the proportion of the total net cash farm income received from "this place" by the senior partner. (See definition of operator in Partnership Operations, item 2, General Information on the information sheet.)

Report the total number of partners in the partnership including the operator (senior partner) and estimate what percent of the net farm income was received by this operator (senior partner).

The net cash farm income is calculated by taking the gross sales of agricultural products of the farm, plus gross income from farm-related sources, minus the cash farm operating expenses and the cash operating expenses for farm-related income sources.

► Section 9 — REAL ESTATE TAXES

Report in this section taxes levied on farm and ranch land, buildings, and other improvements, reported on your tax bill(s) for the year 1988.

If you have more than one tax bill (example, county, State, school district, etc.) for the same acres:

a. Include the acreage only once in item 1

b. For one parcel, report in item 2 the largest assessed value from one of the individual tax bills

c. For multiple parcels, report the sum of the taxes paid by you from all bills in item 3

Do not include taxes on nonfarm property, such as land and buildings used for cotton gins, sugar mills, canning factories, motels, stores, etc. For taxes that are levied on both agricultural and nonagricultural property, estimate and report only that portion of the taxes applying to your farm or ranch. Also exclude personal property taxes (personal property taxes are reported in section 3b, item 8). Do not include real estate taxes on operator dwellings not located on "this place."

► Section 10 — ASSETS OWNED BY THE FARM OPERATION AND HOUSEHOLD

Report all assets owned on December 31, 1988. Estimates are acceptable.

► Section 10a — Report assets owned by the farm operation, partnership, or corporation and associated with "this place" as defined in section 1. Item 3 includes crops produced and stored whether to be sold or not. Also included in item 3 could be crops produced and intended to be fed to livestock or poultry. Item 5 contains feed that was purchased and intended for use on "this place."

► Section 10b — Report assets owned and belonging to the operator, (senior partner in a partnership) or farm manager, and his/her household. The household is defined as anyone residing in the operator's residence (the operator, spouse, children, other relatives, and any other persons living with the operator in his/her household).

If household and business accounts are not kept separately, allocate the financial items between section 10a, items 6 and 7, and section 10b, items 1 and 2, according to whether you feel these assets are owned by the business or members of the household.

► Section 11 — OFF-FARM INCOME DURING 1988 AND SIZE OF HOUSEHOLD

Report in this section the income of all members of the operator's household. If the report is for a partnership, include payments received by the senior partner and persons living in his/her household. Include income received between January 1, and December 31, 1988. Be sure to include wages, salaries, pensions, interest, and other payments, etc. received by you, your spouse, your children, other relatives, and other persons living in your household. This includes persons who usually live there but are temporarily away for reasons such as visiting, traveling, attending school or college, or in hospitals or nursing homes, etc.

If a member lived in your household for only a part of 1988, include the income of that member only for the time that he/she was in your household. Do not include payments received by persons (such as hired workers, etc.) not living in the operator's household.

If you are not certain of the exact figures, please give your best estimate. Mark (X) in the "None" box if you have no off-farm income to report.

Managed Farms Including Large Corporations — For a farm or ranch operated by a farm manager or by one family, relate all income items to the farm manager and the persons living in his/her household. In item 1a(3), include the salary, wages, or commissions received by the manager from the employer. Do not include any nonfarm income received by the corporation or employer.

Losses — If your household had net losses from the rental of nonfarm properties (item 1f), the sale of items such as real estate, machinery, stocks, etc. (item 1i), the operation of a self-employment business (item 1b) in 1988, report those losses by writing "LOSS" to the right of your entry.

Item 2 — Size of Household — Include persons whose usual place of residence is in your household, as of December 31, 1988. As mentioned above, this includes persons who usually live there but are temporarily away for reasons such as visiting, traveling, attending school or college, or in hospitals or nursing homes, etc. Exclude persons who are temporarily in your household, for example, visiting you for the holidays.

► Section 12 — OFF-FARM WORK AND EDUCATION

Please complete this section for both the operator and spouse. No legal status between the operator and spouse are required, but usually the spouse is either the wife or husband of the operator.

Off-farm work by the operator or his/her spouse is defined as work off "this place" in section 1. This off-farm work may be farmwork on another farm or ranch, but farmwork on another farm in exchange for like work is to be excluded. If the operator or spouse worked more than one off-farm job in 1988, describe the one at which the most hours were worked between January 1 and December 31, 1988. Do not include hours worked but not paid.

Based on tests with farmers and ranchers, it takes about 45 to 90 minutes to complete this form with most operators completing the form in 60 minutes. If you have any questions regarding these estimates or any other aspect of this survey, please call or write the Associate Director for Management Services, Room 2027, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233; and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington, DC 20503.

The financial needs of the American farmers are changing. It is important to know facts such as:

The relative debt burden of farmers

The capital investment, operating expenditures, and the amount and sources of income of farmers

These and many other financial problems can be examined only by obtaining information from you and the other survey respondents. Please give the best answers you can, making estimates when you do not have exact figures. Your answers will be combined with others so that confidentiality is maintained. Please answer each question that applies to you.

INFORMATION SHEET

1988 AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS AND LAND OWNERSHIP SURVEY

General Information

You have been identified as a landlord of the farm operator whose name appears on the address label. The questions in sections 1 through 5 refer to the land you leased to this tenant.

The enclosed report form was designed to collect data from landlords of farm and ranch land but may contain sections and inquiries which do not apply to you. Where this is the case, you may simply mark the "None" or "No" box and go on to the next item or section.

Please begin with section 1 and read the items and instructions to see what information you should provide. Give the best answers you can. Please estimate for information on which you do not keep records.

To make recordkeeping more economical, every report form in the Agricultural Economics and Land Ownership Survey has a separate Census File Number (CFN). We need a reply from everyone receiving the report form, whether agricultural operations were conducted in 1988 or not. Please complete and return your report as soon as you can, preferably within the next 2 weeks. Use the enclosed self-addressed envelope.

Please put your answers in the answer spaces (unshaded areas). You may write explanations and comments in the shaded areas to the left of the answer spaces or in the "Remarks" section on page 4.

Please mark answers of "Yes," "No," or "None" by placing an (X) in the small answer box. If the answer is "No" or "None" and a small answer box is not provided, leave the answer space blank.

If you do not recall exact figures, please give your best estimates. You may indicate "Est." (for estimated) beside the answer, if you like. All dollar items may be entered in whole dollars. Cents are not required.

If you are the caretaker, executor, administrator, or act as agent for the actual landlord, please answer all the questions you can for the landlord, estimating if necessary. When reporting section 1, item 1, "acres owned by you," include in the total the parcel of land used by the farm operator listed on the top line of the address label. Section 3 — Debt — If you have knowledge of the amount and source of debt owed on the property in section 1, item 1, please complete section 3. Answer all other questions in reference to the actual owner if possible, i.e., does the actual owner live over 150 miles from the land reported in section 1, item 1; if a corporation owned the land, how is it related to agriculture; etc. For items which you cannot respond — please write "unknown" or "unk." Write in the remarks section, completed by "caretaker," "executor," "administrator," etc.

Instructions For Specified Sections

► Section 1 — ACREAGE IN 1988 AND CURRENT MARKET VALUE OF LAND AND BUILDINGS

Item 1 — Report all of the land you own that was used (rented, leased, used rent-free, etc.) by the farm operator listed on the label. Include cropland, pastureland, woodland, and wasteland.

Item 2 — Please give your best estimate of the market value of the land, including all permanent buildings and permanently attached equipment. Include the value of dwelling(s) on the place and all farm buildings such as barns, poultry houses, fruit packing sheds, vegetable sheds, etc.

Item 3 — All Other Buildings and Structures — Using the market value reported in item 2 as the total value, please estimate the value of the land and buildings separately. Include barns, cribs, silos, equipment shops, grain bins, storage sheds, etc.

► Section 2 — PURCHASES AND EXPENDITURES DURING 1988 FOR THE AGRICULTURE OPERATION

Report all purchases or expenditures made by you for the agricultural operation on the acres reported in section 1, item 1, during 1988. On individual items, include sales taxes, but exclude finance charges. Finance charges should be reported in section 2b, item 7. Report the costs of items minus trade-in values allowed. Mark (X) in the "None" box if you have no purchases or expenditures to report.

DO NOT INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING EXPENDITURES IN THIS SECTION:

a. Expenditures made by the tenant or the tenant's share of any costs.

b. Expenditures on nonfarm property.

c. Expenditures related to nonfarm activities (trading and speculation or livestock dealer activities).

► Section 2A — Report all capital purchases or expenditures made for the agricultural operation during 1988. Include sales taxes, but exclude finance charges. Finance charges will be recorded in section 2B, item 7. Report the costs of items minus trade-in values allowed. If you had no expenditures for the items, mark (X) in the "None" box.

► Section 2B — Report all agricultural operating expenses you, the partnership, or organization incurred for the acres reported in section 1, item 1. Do not include estimates of expenditures for items provided or paid for by tenants.

Item 5 — Hired and Contract Labor — Include gross salaries and wages, commissions, dismissal pay, vacation pay, and paid bonuses paid to hired workers, family members, hired managers, administrative and clerical employees, and salaried corporate officers. Also, include supplemental cost for benefits such as employer's social security contributions, unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation insurance, life and medical insurance, pension plans, etc.

Include as contract labor costs of workers furnished on a contract basis by a labor contractor, crew leader, or cooperative for harvesting vegetables or fruit, shearing sheep, or similar farm activities. Do not include costs for building or repair work done by a construction contractor. Include the cost of customwork or machine hire in item 10.

Item 7 — Include all interest paid on land and buildings in section 1, item 1. Include interest paid on CCC loans in item 7b.

► Section 3 — DEBTS AS OF DECEMBER 31, 1988

The debts to be reported are those owed as of December 31, 1988, arising from the ownership of the acres in section 1, item 1, which were leased to the farm operator whose name appears on the label.

For debts covering land areas which include, but are not limited to the acres in section 1, item 1, report only your estimate of that part of the debt that applies to these, section 1, item 1, acres. The share to be reported should be estimated in proportion to the market value of the properties. If you cannot allocate debt between owned land reported in section 1, item 1, and total owned land, report the total debt for the total owned land and the total owned acreage involved, and explain in "Remarks" on page 4. Other debts should also be prorated if they relate only in part to the agricultural operations reported for the acreage in section 1, item 1.

DO NOT INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING KINDS OF DEBTS:

a. Debts on nonagricultural property such as cotton gins, canning factories, sugar mills, motels, stores, etc.

b. Your tenant's share of any debts

c. Charge accounts that are paid in full monthly (debts owed for less than 30 days should not be reported).

INCLUDE:

a. Debts not expected to be paid in 30 days should be reported.

For each source to which no debt was owed on December 31, 1988, mark (X) in the "None" box.

► Section 4 — ASSETS OWNED BY THE LANDLORD

The assets to be reported are those owned as of December 31, 1988 that are part of, or related to, the acres reported in section 1, item1.

Estimates are acceptable. For each item owned, enter the estimated market value. If owned assets are used on more owned acreage than that reported in section 1, item 1, and leased to the tenant on the label, prorate the value of the asset to this property based on the percent it is used or located on this property. Mark (X) in the "None" box for items that do not apply.

DO NOT INCLUDE:

a. Your tenant's share of any assets.

b. Poultry, livestock, and other assets owned by contractors, investors, etc.

c. Machinery, equipment, and other assets rented from others.

► Section 6 — AGRICULTURAL LAND OWNERSHIP

Section 6 refers to all of the farm and ranch land owned by you on December 31, 1988 including the acres leased to the tenant's name(s) on the label. If you have other tenants or operate owned land yourself, these should be combined into a total of all land owned by you, and recorded in section 6, item 1.

The market value for land, dwellings, and other buildings is the value of all these items on all acres owned December 31, 1988.

Item 4 — Land Use Definitions

a. Cropland is land that is cultivatable and normally used for crops.

b. Orchard/vineyard are permanent crops such as tree crops and vineyards.

c. Cropland used for permanent pasture is cultivatable cropland that is being used for permanent pasture but could be cropped.

d. All other pasture or rangeland is all land owned where livestock are permitted to graze (exclude any non-owned public grazing land).

e. Forest/woodland not pastured is forest and woodland on which livestock is fenced out.

f. Other (farmstead, wasteland, roads, ditches, etc.) is wasteland, roads, driveways, ditches, building sites, houses, barns, wind breaks, ponds, lakes, personal gardens, etc.

Item 5 — Land Acquired, Sold or Disposed of, and Owned on Specific Years — Report acres owned as of December 31 for the specified year in column 1. Report acres acquired and/or sold for the period shown in columns 2 and 3.

Item 7 — Leases — Item 7 requests the number of leases, acres leased, market value of acres leased, and value of rent received, by type of lease on the land you owned on December 31, 1988. Do not include land you rent from others, and in turn, subleased to someone else. The market value of acres leased should be your estimate of the value for all land and buildings leased, if sold on the current market. The value of rent received should be the cash value of rent paid to you, or if the rent payment was received as a share of the crop or livestock, estimate the cash value of such items if they were sold on the current market. Any combination of cash and share payment should be summed together for total value of rent received during 1988.

Item 8 — Cash Leases Adjusted — Unusual conditions could be considered drought, hail, tornado, hurricane, adverse weather damage, etc. Exceptional conditions could be growing conditions where yields are above normal.

Item 9 — Services from a professional farm management firm might include accounting and financial planning, (once a year tax preparation does not constitute financial planning), record keeping, production and input information, crop and livestock marketing, rent collecting, tenant finding, etc. These services would be performed by a person or firm other than the farm or ranch operator, landlord, or tenant.

► Section 7 — REAL ESTATE TAXES

The taxes which are to be reported in this section are those levied on farm and ranch land, buildings, and other improvements, as reported on your tax bill(s) for the year 1988, for all the farm and ranch land and buildings you own as reported in section 6, item 1.

If you have more than one tax bill (example, county, State, school district, etc.) for the same acres:

a. Include the acreage only once in item 1.

b. For one parcel, report in item 2 the largest assessed value for one of the individual tax bills.

c. For multiple parcels, report the sum of the taxes paid by you from all bills in item 3.

Do not include taxes on nonfarm property, such as land and buildings used for cotton gins, sugar mills, canning factories, motels, stores, etc. For taxes that are levied on both agricultural and nonagricultural property, estimate and report only that portion of the taxes applying to your farm or ranch. Exclude personal property taxes (personal property taxes are reported in section 2b, item 8).

► Section 8 — NET CASH INCOME FOR 1988

Mark (X) in the box that best reports your net cash income from farming and ranching in 1988. As a landlord, this would be your net cash income for the land you operate as a farm operator, partner, or corporation, plus net income from rents (cash/share, etc.), from farm or ranch land leased to others during 1988. Net cash farm income is the gross sales of agricultural products off the farm, plus gross income from farm-related sources (customwork, etc.), minus the cash farm operating expenses and cash operating expenses from farm-related income sources.

► Section 9 — TYPE OF OWNERSHIP

Use the following definitions to assist you in determining the type of organization for your land ownership. You should report in column 1, the type of organization for the land ownership on the total acres of farm and ranch land you owned and, in column 2, the type of organization for the land leased to the farm operator named on the label. They may or may not be the same.

Individual or Family (Sole Proprietorship) — Defined as a farm or business organization controlled and operated by an individual. This includes family operations that are not incorporated and not operated under a partnership agreement.

Partnership — Defined as two or more persons who have agreed on the amount of their contribution (capital and effort) and the distribution of profits. Co-ownership of land by husband and wife or joint filing of income tax forms by husband and wife does not necessarily mean that a partnership exists unless there is some agreement as to sharing contributions, decision-making, profits, and liabilities.

Corporation, Including Family Corporations — Defined as a legal entity or artificial person created under the laws of a State to carry on a business. This definition does not include cooperatives. These types of operations are often managed.

Other — Such as a cooperative (defined as an incorporated or unincorporated enterprise or association created and formed jointly by the members), estate or trust (defined as a fund of money or property administered for the benefit of another individual or organization), prison farm, grazing association, Indian reservation, etc.

► Section 10 — CHARACTERISTICS AND OCCUPATION OF LANDLORD

Individual and partnership landlords should complete part A of this section and leave part B blank. Corporation landlords should complete part B and leave part A blank. Other types of landlords, such as cooperative, estate or trust, prison farm, grazing association, or Indian reservation, should skip section 10.

Based on tests with farmers and ranchers, it takes about 40 to 60 minutes to complete this form with most landlords completing the form in 50 minutes. If you have any questions regarding these estimates or any other aspect of this survey, please call or write the Associate Director for Management Services, Room 2027, Bureau of the Census, Washington DC 20233; and to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget, Washington DC 20503.

PUBLICATION PROGRAM

1987 CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE

Results of the 1987 Census of Agriculture are being published in a series of reports which provide data for each county (or equivalent), each State, the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands of the United States, American Samoa, and the Northern Mariana Islands. The publications include statistics on the number of farms; land in farms; farm and operator characteristics; livestock, poultry, and their products; crop production and value; operating expenditures; irrigation; and other characteristics of farms.

Publication order forms may be obtained from Data User Services Division, Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233, any U.S. Department of Commerce district office, or by calling (301) 763-1113.

ADVANCE REPORTS (AC87-A-01-000(A) TO 56-000(A)

Advance Reports are published separately for each county (or equivalent) in the United States with 10 farms or more, for each State, and the United States. The reports contain data for all agricultural operations with $1,000 or more in actual or potential sales of agricultural products in the census year. The Advance Reports contain final data for major data items together with comparable data from the 1982 census. Included in the reports are data on number of farms, land in farms, size of farms, land use practices, farm operator characteristics, sales expenditures, machinery and equipment, livestock, poultry, dairy products sold, and major crops harvested (which vary by State). No advance reports are available for Puerto Rico, Guam, or the U.S. Virgin Islands.

VOLUME 1. GEOGRAPHIC AREA SERIES (AC87-A-1 TO 56)

State and County Data (A-1 to 50) are published showing detailed data in national and State tables for the United States, and in county and State tables separately for each State. These reports include data on number and size of farms; crop production; livestock, poultry, and their products; tenure, age, and occupation of operators; types of organization; value of products sold; and standard industrial classification of farms.

Summary and State Data (A-51)

- Chapter 1. National level data
- Chapter 2. State level data

Outlying Areas (A-52 to 56) provide detailed data for the regions and municipios of Puerto Rico; the election districts of Guam; the U.S. Virgin Islands; American Samoa; and Northern Mariana Islands.

VOLUME 2. SUBJECT SERIES (AC87-S-1 TO 6)

Agricultural Atlas of the United States (AC87-S-1), formerly the Graphic Summary, presents a profile of the Nation's agriculture in a series of dot and multicolor pattern maps. The maps provide displays on size and type of farm, land use, farm tenure, market value of products sold, crops harvested, livestock inventories, and other characteristics of farms.

Coverage Evaluation (AC87-S-2) provides national and regional level estimates on the completeness of the census, in terms of both the number of farms missed and selected characteristics of those farms.

Ranking of States and Counties (AC87-S-3) presents the ranking of the top 20 States and the top 100 counties of importance of selected items from the 1987 census. Comparative data from the 1982 census are included in most tables. Tables also show cumulative totals for States and counties.

History (AC87-S-4) is a concise description of the major census operations together with facsimiles of selected data tables. It explains the history of the agriculture census, farm definition, data collection and processing, and dissemination of census data.

Government Payments and Market Value of Agricultural Products Sold (AC87-S-5) shows detailed data for farms cross-tabulated by combined market value of agricultural products sold and Government payments received, including detailed national data and selected data for each State.

ZIP Code Tabulations of Selected Items From the 1987 Census of Agriculture (AC87-S-6) provides tabulations by five-digit ZIP Code for selected items from the 1987 census. Data items include number of farms, land in farms, farms by size, market value of agricultural products sold by size of sale, livestock inventory, cropland harvested, and selected crops.

VOLUME 3. RELATED SURVEYS (AC87-RS-1 AND 2)

The Farm and Ranch Irrigation Survey (AC87-RS-1) provides statistical data collected from a sample of farm operations from the 1987 Census of Agriculture. The publication offers information on acres irrigated, land use, yields of specified crops, methods of water distribution, quantity of water used by its source, and other irrigation practices.

Agricultural Economics and Land Ownership Survey (AC87-RS-2) provides data on indebtedness, expenditures, income and assets for both farm operators and landlords. This report also includes measures of credit used for purchases and expenditures, debt by type of lender, assets, off-farm income, and other land ownership data.

VOLUME 4. CENSUS OF HORTICULTURAL SPECIALTIES (AC87-HOR-1)

This report includes detailed information on the horticultural establishments with production and sales of $2,000 or more. It provides data on number of establishments, value of sales of horticultural products, type of horticultural products, and kinds of horticultural businesses, for the United States, States, and counties.

ELECTRONIC MEDIA

Flexible Diskette—The Advance Reports of the 1987 Census of Agriculture are available on flexible diskettes. The files can be used with any compatible microcomputer employing the PC-DOS 2.0 or higher operating system. Diskettes can be obtained by calling (301) 763-4100.

Computer Tapes—Public-use computer tapes contain the same summary statistics that are found in the published reports. Two files are available for each State: data for counties and the aggregated State-level data. Order forms may be obtained from the Data User Services Division, Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233 (or call (301) 763-4100).

Compact Disc-Read Only Memory (CD-ROM)— Data for the conterminous United States and Puerto Rico are available on CD-ROM. The CD-ROM can be obtained from the Data User Services Division, Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233 (or call (301) 763-4100).
